

Professional Diploma in the Management of Governance, Risk and Compliance

of senior-level executives rank "risk and compliance" as one of the top two risk categories they feel least prepared to address

Develop a culture of integrity and compliance with organisational values

Senior executives and compliance professionals today are scrutinised against the most exacting professional standards and face unprecedented challenges.

The Professional Diploma in the Management of Governance, Risk and Compliance has been developed in close conjunction with a range of industry and regulatory stakeholders and is designed to give executives a firm grasp on the paths they need to navigate. It provides participants with the management skills to function optimally in a compliance environment by building and enhancing their leadership and management competencies across the board.

This programme is relevant for regulated and unregulated sectors alike such as; insurance, pharmaceuticals, telecommunications, construction, banking, FMCG, transportation and regulatory bodies.

This programme is for you if:

- › You are an executive who wishes to broaden your knowledge of ethical governance and forge a culture of compliance in your organisation.
- › You are a manager with specific compliance responsibilities seeking to hone in on your management skills and develop practical expertise in a focused learning environment.
- › You are a senior executive with board-level responsibilities or would like to reach a senior level, where proven awareness of key governance areas is fast becoming a prerequisite.

A Graduate's View:

// The programme has facilitated a critical assessment of the DSPCA's corporate governance policy, strategy and practice and will continue to benefit the organisation's efforts in the governance and compliance fields. //

Master of Business Framework

The Master of Business gives you the flexibility to choose the subjects that are right for your needs, while building up to a Masters Degree qualification. Each element of your journey promises to be an energising learning experience leading to a world class qualification.

There are two pathways you can take to achieve your Masters qualification with IMI. Both pathways require you to complete two Professional Diplomas before choosing a final capstone programme to bring your learning together in an integrative experience, that will positively impact your professional career and your organisation.

The capstone programmes are focused on rigour and imbued with relevance, improve confidence and self-perception, hone knowledge and skills, and emphasise reflective practice.

All programmes are validated and awarded by University College Cork, and are at level 9 on the National Framework of Qualifications. You can complete the taught element of each Professional Diploma on a modular basis over a 6-month period, and have up to six years to complete all elements of your journey.

The Advanced Performance Programme is for professionals who want to bring their leadership capabilities to a new level. Through a blended focus on the environment, the organisation, and the individual, the APP serves to synthesise the learning outcomes of your IMI journey. Designed and delivered in partnership with Cork University Business School, this pathway will lead to a Professional Masters in Business Studies, Ireland's first Professional Masters of its kind.

The Business Research Project is for those professionals who want to address a complex business challenge and execute a strategy or develop a strategic response that could change the future of their organisation. This pathway will lead to a MSc. in Business Practice award.

Programme Delivery

IMI programmes are delivered through a blend of live face-to-face and virtual sessions via the IMI Virtual Learning Environment. Our High Impact Transformation learning approach lies at the core of all IMI programmes, meaning these sessions are always interactive, engaging and experiential.

Action and experiential learning — doing and reflecting — is a highly effective leadership and team development technique, which you will find enjoyable, challenging and in many cases transformational.

Participant information

Entry Requirements

A candidate's eligibility for each programme will be determined by a combination of their academic qualifications and/or relevant professional experience. Each applicant will be required to complete the IMI "Portfolio of Learning" application form. A primary degree from a recognised third-level institution (NFQ level 8), with a minimum classification of Second Class Honours, will typically be required with five years relevant work experience, at least 3 of which must be at managerial level, however, prior workplace learning will be recognised where applicants do not meet the academic requirement.

This experience may come from a general business or organisational background, or experience working at a management level or in the area specifically related to the Diploma.

Each candidate will meet with the Programme Directors, who will interview applicants in person virtually or physically. The IMI Office of the Registrar will oversee all applications, and the final decision on any application shall remain with the Registrar.

All applicants whose first language is not English will be required to show evidence of the successful completion of an IELTS or TOEFL test. The English language requirement for this programme is an IELTS score of 6.5 with a minimum of 6.0 in each individual section or equivalent.

*Programmes scheduled subject to cohort size.

Validation

Each Professional Diploma is awarded by University College Cork and is at level 9 on the National Framework of Qualifications.

Assignments and Workload

To earn a Masters Degree or Professional Diploma, participants will be assessed through a variety of practical assignments. Programmes will have no examinations; instead, the emphasis throughout is on the practical application of knowledge to benefit you and your organisation. Assessment workload extends across the programme to allow you to combine your learning with your work and life demands.
