

Professional Diploma in Strategic Human Resource Management

Companies with a highly engaged workforce will have:

- 21% Higher Profitability
- 40% Fewer Quality Defects
- 17% More Effective Employees

Build a high performance culture

As global competition for talent intensifies, visionary companies are increasing their investment in people strategy as a critical pillar for growth and performance. Without the ability to attract, retain and develop the best people, organisations risk being left behind.

The Professional Diploma in Strategic Human Resource Management will support you in designing, building and managing an organisation that will execute your business strategy.

This programme is for you if:

- › You are a leader who wishes to design, build and implement a high-performance and engaged organisation that will dominate your marketplace.
- › You are an experienced HR professional who wishes to develop the competence required to lead the human resource function at executive team level.
- › You are a manager who is responsible for leading and implementing change.
- › You are an owner or manager of an SME.

A Graduate's View:

// The Professional Diploma in Strategic Human Resource Management provided me with the essential knowledge and tools to support, engage with and guide Enterprise Ireland client companies on organisational development agenda. //

Karen Hernández, Senior Executive, Client Management Development

Professional Diploma in Strategic HRM

This programme will equip you to:

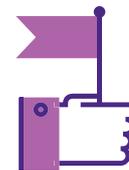

Build a people-focused organisation that will deliver your business strategy.

Understand how to practically and effectively deliver cultural change.

Diagnose the functional and dysfunctional elements of your organisation's culture and put plans in place to eliminate the dysfunction.

Build a best-in-class performance management process and design a total reward system for your organisation.

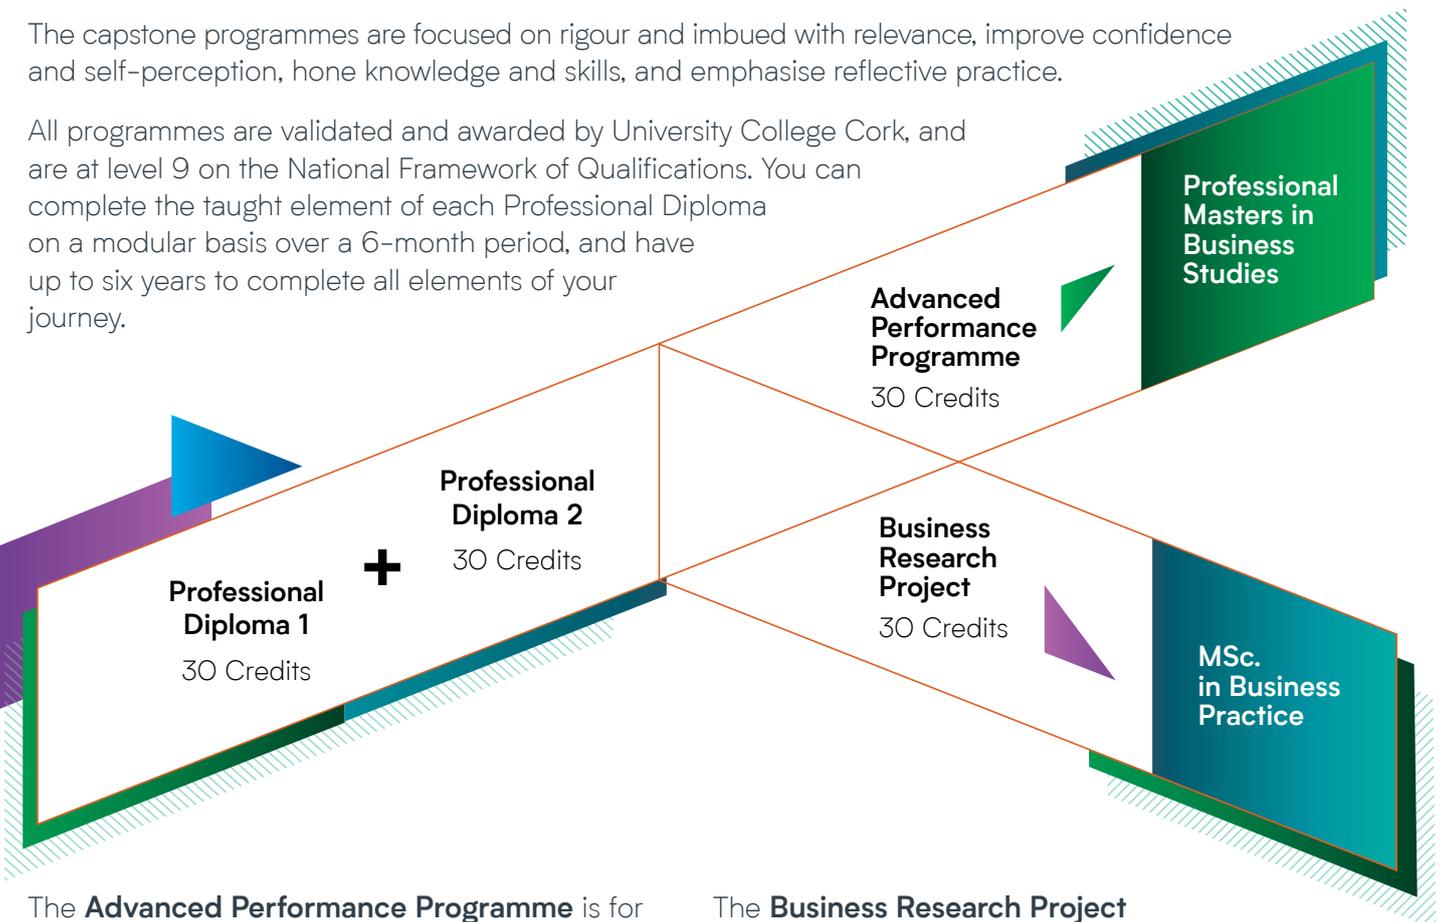

Master of Business Framework

The Master of Business gives you the flexibility to choose the subjects that are right for your needs, while building up to a Masters Degree qualification. Each element of your journey promises to be an energising learning experience leading to a world class qualification.

There are two pathways you can take to achieve your Masters qualification with IMI. Both pathways require you to complete two Professional Diplomas before choosing a final capstone programme to bring your learning together in an integrative experience, that will positively impact your professional career and your organisation.

The capstone programmes are focused on rigour and imbued with relevance, improve confidence and self-perception, hone knowledge and skills, and emphasise reflective practice.

All programmes are validated and awarded by University College Cork, and are at level 9 on the National Framework of Qualifications. You can complete the taught element of each Professional Diploma on a modular basis over a 6-month period, and have up to six years to complete all elements of your journey.

The Advanced Performance Programme is for professionals who want to bring their leadership capabilities to a new level. Through a blended focus on the environment, the organisation, and the individual, the APP serves to synthesise the learning outcomes of your IMI journey. Designed and delivered in partnership with Cork University Business School, this pathway will lead to a Professional Masters in Business Studies, Ireland's first Professional Masters of its kind.

The Business Research Project is for those professionals who want to address a complex business challenge and execute a strategy or develop a strategic response that could change the future of their organisation. This pathway will lead to a MSc. in Business Practice award.

Programme Delivery

IMI programmes are delivered through a blend of live face-to-face and virtual sessions via the IMI Virtual Learning Environment. Our High Impact Transformation learning approach lies at the core of all IMI programmes, meaning these sessions are always interactive, engaging and experiential.

Action and experiential learning — doing and reflecting — is a highly effective leadership and team development technique, which you will find enjoyable, challenging and in many cases transformational.

Participant information

Entry Requirements

A candidate's eligibility for each programme will be determined by a combination of their academic qualifications and/or relevant professional experience. Each applicant will be required to complete the IMI "Portfolio of Learning" application form. A primary degree from a recognised third-level institution (NFQ level 8), with a minimum classification of Second Class Honours, will typically be required with five years relevant work experience, at least 3 of which must be at managerial level, however, prior workplace learning will be recognised where applicants do not meet the academic requirement.

This experience may come from a general business or organisational background, or experience working at a management level or in the area specifically related to the Diploma.

Each candidate will meet with the Programme Directors, who will interview applicants in person virtually or physically. The IMI Office of the Registrar will oversee all applications, and the final decision on any application shall remain with the Registrar.

All applicants whose first language is not English will be required to show evidence of the successful completion of an IELTS or TOEFL test. The English language requirement for this programme is an IELTS score of 6.5 with a minimum of 6.0 in each individual section or equivalent.

*Programmes scheduled subject to cohort size.

Validation

Each Masters degree is validated by University College Cork and is at level 9 on the National Framework of Qualifications.

Assignments and Workload

To earn a Masters Degree or Professional Diploma, participants will be assessed through a variety of practical assignments. Programmes will have no examinations; instead, the emphasis throughout is on the practical application of knowledge to benefit you and your organisation. Assessment workload extends across the programme to allow you to combine your learning with your work and life demands.
